Department of Human Genetics

Invites application for three months Certificate course on 'Molecular Cloning'

About the course

Genes code for the functional molecules which are essential for normal growth and development. Alterations in the structure, expression and function of various gene products are implicated in diseases development. In the post genomic era we understood genetic cause for many diseases. On the contrary the genetic understanding of the complex conditions like Neurological disorders, Psychiatric disorders, Cancer, Diabetes etc. remains challenging. Molecular insight in the disease causation and development is a critical need for their management. Molecular cloning is an inevitable tool to understand the gene products at various level and it is fundamental for disease diagnosis and prognosis. Thus, this three month Certificate course on 'Molecular cloning' will offer advanced level training in the field of genetics.

Students after completion of this course will gain hands on training in the area of molecular cloning and also get knowledge in recent advanced in genome editing and its various applications. Students can use this expertise in Research Institutes, Pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries, Hospitals and Universities.
