

International Symposium on
The Impact of COVID-19 on People with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities: Focus on
Person and Family-Centered Care

24th March, 2021
2:00- 4:30 pm IST

Jointly organized by the Department of Clinical Psychology and Department of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry
NNIMHANS

With technical support from
The Challenging Behaviours and Mental Health Group, International Association for the Scientific Study of Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities

Coordinator: Dr. M. Thomas Kishore, Additional Professor of Clinical Psychology

Joint Coordinator: Dr. K. John Vijay Sagar, Professor & Head, Department of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry

Speakers	Topic
Ms. Faridah Ali Chang Principal Trainer and Consultant Rainbow Center Training & Consultancy, Singapore	Support for families and their high needs children during the COVID19 pandemic
Professor Paul Willner Professor Emeritus, Swansea University College of Human and Health Sciences & Dr. Biza Stenfert Kroese Consultant Clinical Psychologist & Senior Researcher, School of Psychology, Birmingham University	Effects of the pandemic on informal carers of adults and children with intellectual disabilities in the UK
Professor Peter E. Langdon Centre for Educational Development, Appraisal and Research, University of Warwick, Coventry and Coventry and Warwickshire Partnership NHS Trust	Occupational Stress, Coping and Wellbeing amongst Registered Psychologists Working with People with Intellectual Disabilities during the COVID-19 Pandemic in the United Kingdom
Professor Regi Alexander Consultant Psychiatrist, Hertfordshire Partnership University NHS Foundation, UK	Guidance for the treatment and management of COVID19 among people with intellectual disabilities

Note:

1. There is no registration fee
2. It is open for 50 participants working in the field of IDD on first-come-first-serve basis
3. Register by filling up a form symposium.idd@gmail.com
4. Last date for submitting the registration form is 19th of March, 2021

Registration Form

International Symposium on
The Impact of COVID-19 on People with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities: Focus on
Person and Family-Centered Care

24th March, 2021
2:00- 4:30 pm IST

Jointly organized by the Department of Clinical Psychology and Department of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry
NIMHANS

1	Full Name (please use capital letter if filled in hand writing)
2	Qualifications (Highest degree)
3	Current Affiliation
4	Work experience related to the area of intellectual and developmental disabilities
5	Contact details (Address, phone number and email)

(Signature of the applicant)

Date:

Note:

1. Please send the duly filled registration form via email <symposium.idd@gmail.com> latest by 19th of March, 2021, 5 pm IST.
2. Please wait for the registration confirmation and the event link from the organizers